SAN GIMIGNANO:

San Gimignano is a small Medieval town in the Province of Siena, in Tuscany. It rises on top of a hill (344 metres high) dominating the Elsa Valley and it is a famous tourist town, whose unique collection of towers and winding lanes makes it a charming destination for tourists. Its historic centre is a Unesco World Heritage Site. The town is also known for its white wine called Vernaccia di San Gimignano.

HISTORY

San Gimignano was founded by the Etruscans in the 3rd century. It began its life as a town in the 10th century, when it adopted the name of the Bishop of Modena, Saint Geminianus, who had defended it from the Huns, led by Attila. In the Middle Ages the town increased in wealth due to its position on a trade and pilgrimage route, the famous Via Francigena, which was the most important route connecting Italy to the rest of Europe. In the 12th century the town became a Free Municipality. Due to internal struggles its inhabitants divided into two factions: the Guelphs and the Ghibellines. In the 13th century it became a very important producer of saffron, which was exported not only to Genoa, Pisa and Lucca, but also to France and the Low Countries. Between the 11th and the 13th centuries seventy-two towers were built, rising above the town's rooftops to witness San Gimignano's prosperity. Nowadays there are only fourteen towers. After the Black Death, the town was subdued by Florence; this put a halt to its progress. In the following centuries the town overcame its decline when its beauty and cultural importance together with its agricultural heritage were rediscovered.

It has a fine brick and stone façade dating back to the 13th century. Inside the church there are beautiful Sienese and Florentine School frescoes such as the "Last Judgement" by Taddeo di Bartolo,

"the Martyrdom of St. Sebastian" by Benozzo Gozzoli,

"Episodes from the Old and New Testament" by Bartolo di Fredi and "Stories of Santa Fina" by Ghirlandaio.

At the bottom of the right nave of the Cathedral we can admire THE CHAPEL OF SANTA FINA, which is a masterpiece by Giuliano and Benedetto da Maiano (1468). On the walls there are frescoes depicting "Scenes from the Life of the Saint" by Ghirlandaio. Santa Fina, who is the Patron Saint of San Gimignano, is buried under the altar. On the altar there is a tabernacle containing Santa Fina's relics. Santa Fina (1238-1253) is celebrated in San Gimignano on 12th March, the anniversary of her death. On that day her relics are carried in procession in order to bless the town.

Our tour continues with the TOWN HALL, which stands to the left of the Cathedral. It was built in the 13th century and it is the seat of the CIVIC MUSEUM and the ART GALLERY, so it is one of the most important monuments in San Gimignano.
